

Create your Own Bill Rubric

You and a partner will be creating a bill concerning a health issue that you feel needs legislation. You will research information in order to be informed about the issue. You will write the bill and present it to a committee consisting of 7 people including you and your partner. If the committee passes the bill, it will move to the House for a vote. If it passes the House it will move to the Senate for a vote and then move on to the President. Check all that apply.

T	S	Exceptional	T	S	Proficient	T	S	Not Yet Proficient	T	S	Experiencing Difficulty
		You creatively named your bill something that will persuade people that it needs to be passed.			You named your bill something that will persuade people that it needs to be passed.			You have attempted to name your bill something that will persuade people that it needs to be passed.			The name of your bill does not adequately describe it's purpose and is not persuasive.
		You have explained the provisions of your bill in depth so that everyone in the House and Senate understands what your bill will provide for the people.			You have explained the provisions of your bill so that everyone in the House and Senate understands what your bill will provide for the people.			You have attempted to explain the provisions of your bill so that everyone in the House and Senate understands what your bill will provide for the people.			The explanation of your bill does not adequately explain what your bill will provide to the people.
		You have researched many reasons for the passage of this legislation and are able to articulately argue those reasons in front of the committee.			You have researched reasons for the passage of this legislation and are able to argue those reasons in front of the committee.			You have researched a few reasons for the passage of this legislation and attempted argue those reasons in front of the committee.			You are missing researched information about the importance of passing this legislation.
		You have thoroughly prepared to answer questions and concerns presented by committee members.			You have prepared to answer questions and concerns presented by committee members.			You are somewhat prepared to answer questions and concerns presented by committee members.			You are unprepared to answer questions and concerns presented by committee members.
		You have used statistical data to back up your information, have explain why it's valid, and where you found it.			You have used statistical data to back up your information and have explained where you found it.			You have justified where you found your research, but it lacks statistical information.			You have not used any researched information to make your point.

Comments: