

The Larochelle family:

My Dad's side of the family the Larochelle family originally came from Larochelle, France. They were originally from France then they immigrated to Quebec, Canada and then after they moved to Canada they moved to the United States in 1656. The French immigrated to the U.S. in order to escape a Bad storm, that was going on during the Revolution War and the poor living conditions.

The St.Amand family:

My Mom's side of the family the St.Amand family originally came from the Western side of Canada and also Quebec Canada. They were originally from Canada then they immigrated to the U.S. They immigrated here around the 1840-1930. They immigrated here because some of the french first tried Florida but then the Spanish killed everyone of the French because they were Protestant.
